

BOOKING AT AN OFFICE OR BUSINESS

Working on a lot you don't own.

When you book Renn Bros to work on a car parked at an office, a business or any property that isn't yours, we need the property's permission to be there. This page explains what you agree to when you choose "Office parking" and accept the disclosure while booking.

1 Permission is yours to get

You confirm that you have, or will get before the visit, permission from the property owner, building management or security for Renn Bros to park its service vehicle next to your car and do the booked work there.

- Some properties ask for a name, a time window or a licence plate. Ask us and we'll send you what they need.
- If the property has a loading zone, a visitor area or rules about where work can happen, tell us in the booking notes.

2 On the day

- We follow the property's rules: where to park, hours, noise and access.
- We may check in with security when we arrive, or ask you to show the approval.
- We work on drip trays and leave the spot clean. Old parts, tires and fluids leave with us.
- Someone must be reachable by phone, with the keys, during the visit.

3 If we're refused access or asked to leave

We stop work and leave. The visit then counts as a missed visit under our booking terms: the deposit is kept to cover the time and travel set aside for you. Work already completed is billed at the agreed price. We'll gladly rebook you at another address.

4 Fees, fines and responsibility

- Parking fees, fines or towing linked to where your car is parked are your responsibility.
- Renn Bros remains responsible for any damage it causes through its own fault, and carries the warranty described on rennbros.com.

5 What we keep

Your booking records that you accepted this consent and disclosure, with the date and time. Your other rights are described in our privacy policy and booking terms at rennbros.com.

When booking, you confirm: I have, or will get, the property's permission for Renn Bros to work there, and I agree to this consent and disclosure.
